From the Minister's Desk

Thanksgiving 2023

Peace be with you, my sisters and brothers in Christ.

It is truly a sight to behold at this time of the year, the artistic side of our heavenly Creator showing through the fall colors of the flora.

Yet it signals for us a change in season, the beginning of the harvest.

Jesus once spoke of harvest as such,

"The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few"
(Matthew 9:37).

In response to our Lord's calling, I must say that we are a congregation that strives to become more faithful, permission-giving, servant-empowering, and constantly innovating the means to share the liberating power and anchor of the Gospel.

The Session and all of its constituent committees, and the ministerial staff, with your support, are constantly engaged in prayerful discernment of ministries to strengthen and pursue.

I believe all of this and more are testimonies to the deep conviction that lies deep in all of us:

'As God's children, we are free from the power and influence of money to live life generously and openly, and with passion.'

Thanks be to God for this treasure!

And thank you for your most generous and enabling commitment to the ministry of Jesus Christ that unfolds at Knox Presbyterian Church.

Yours in Christ,

Rev. Dr. Dong-Ha Kim

Music Moment

By Janet vanderSpek

Wishing you and yours a blessed Thanksgiving! May you enjoy fine fellowship and also the changing landscape of Autumn as the coloured leaves begin their display.

One of the Harvest/ Thanksgiving hymns in the Book of Praise is " We Plough the Fields and Scatter " ( #807).

Matthias Claudius (1740- 1815), wrote the text and here is some interesting background information:

Matthias grew up in the home of a Lutheran pastor and studied briefly for the ministry at the University of Jena. During his twenties and thirties, he seems to have forsaken the faith, influenced by the rationalistic thought of the time. He became seriously ill in 1777, and this crisis was instrumental in returning him to his childhood faith.

The inspiring text affirms that, while we need to plow the land and sow the seed, it is God who provides the increase; he sends the rain and the sunshine to produce a harvest. God also sustains his creation, for "all good gifts around us are sent from heaven above." Thus, praise bursts from our "humble, thankful hearts."

May there always be a song in your grateful heart. 🎵

We Plough the Fields and Scatter

Verse 1

We plough the fields and scatter
The good seed on the land.
But it is fed and watered
By God's almighty hand:
You send the snow in winter,
The warmth to swell the grain,
The breezes and the sunshine,
And soft refreshing rain.

Verse 2

You only are the Maker
Of all things near and far;
You paint the wayside flower,
You light the evening star;
The winds and waves obey you;
By you the birds are fed;
Much more to us, your children,
You give our daily bread.

Verse 3

We thank you, our provider,
For all things bright and good,
The seed time and the harvest,
Our life our health our food.
No gifts have we to offer
For all your love imparts,
But that which you most welcome:
Our humble thankful hearts.

Chorus

All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above
We thank you, Lord,
We thank you, Lord
For all your love.

WMS Campbell Afternoon Auxiliary

By Susan McLennan, Secretary

The Campbell Afternoon auxiliary will meet on Monday October 2nd at 2:00 pm in the Cheyne Room. Please note the change of date due to the Thanksgiving holiday. We will be celebrating all the things we are grateful for.

A prayer by Maren Tirabassi, CASA (church on-line):

*For the tree that has become a stump,
the hour that is now a memory,
even the memory that will be forgotten,
I am grateful.*

*For the friend who died five years ago,
the pies she baked, quilts she stitched,
every friend tenderly held in mind,
and some I promise to call tomorrow,
and some I will meet tomorrow,
I am grateful.*

*For sheets I will wrinkle,
a glass of water for nighttime waking,
the mish-mash in my mind of
'hallowed be thy name,'
'lie down in green pastures,'
and "now I lay me down,"
what has changed me today
and what I have let go into your hand
I am grateful. amen*

Woodstock Wonders Ride Again

By Nora Martin

Remember what a beautiful day September 23 was? Sunny and bright, warm but not hot, and most important of all, dry and not raining! We (Steve and Nora) will certainly remember it for a long time! That was the day that we were joined by John and Laurie Bannerman for our 30 km bike ride for Journey for Hope from here to Ingersoll and back. We took our time, enjoying the weather and the scenery (see picture), and then had lunch out together afterward to celebrate our success.

And thanks to many people, like yourselves, who dug deep into their pockets, the team raised $2250 (and counting!) for the support of food security programs of Presbyterian World Service and Development in places like Malawi and around the world. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for supporting this important cause. Food insecurity is an increasingly serious issue around the world, making programs like those of PWS&D more important than we can say, and you have done your bit towards helping.

TIPS FROM THE CANADIAN RED CROSS

Know the location of First Aid kits at Knox. We have 5.

You will find them in the 3 kitchens, the youth room in the basement and in the Sunday School classroom.

Look for them!

Lay Preaching Workshop

This is a day for leaders in local congregations to learn more about preaching. You don't need to be an ordained minister to preach! God speaks through all of us, and this is a day to learn how to study scripture, craft your message, and deliver a sermon. The Rev. Dr. Sarah Travis of Knox College will be teaching this workshop.

Call 519-529-7317 or email admin@campkintail.ca to book!

Adelaide Soup Bowl at First Baptist Church

The Soup Kitchen began in January 1988, 36 years ago. It is a cooperative ministry of Woodstock and area churches. The space is provided by First Baptist Church and noon meals continue to be served on Mondays and Fridays from mid-October until the end of May. (Operation Sharing provides meals to those in need on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.)

Lauren Reczuch and Elaine Stevens attended a planning meeting on September 20th. There are fewer churches able to help with the Soup Kitchen meals. Our Knox members have always been generous with helping at the soup kitchen so we decided to sign up twice.

Knox has signed up for Friday, Dec. 8th and Monday, December 11th, 2023, and for Friday, April 12th and Monday, April 15th, 2024.

If you want to help with the meal preparations, please mark these dates on your calendar.

Beginnings Family Services, Woodstock

Beginnings Family Services would like to thank Knox Church for their donations to the 2023 Beginning Baby Bottle Campaign. Knox raised $190.62, which contributed to the campaign total of $24,052.92.

Donations help Beginnings to continue to make a difference in young families' lives by providing the important work of pregnancy, parenting support, adoption counselling, and bringing the message of God's Hope, healing and a better life to the families and children they serve.

From Joyce Schultz, Care Centre Director, "Please extend our utmost gratefulness to your congregation for their participation and generosity. Thank you for supporting this vital work."

A Blast from the Past - The Beadle

Here is a fun article that was found by Rev. Jan, researched and written by Linda Lomax. Obviously, some of the "duties" no longer apply! 😊

"The Symbolism of the beadle probably has its origin in ancient times when Moses pitched the Tabernacle in the wilderness as a visible symbol of the Divine Presence. In pitching the Tabernacle, the shelter for the holy books, Moses acted as what we now know as a "beadle". In the early church "the doorkeeper" had many non-sacramental duties required of him. The official Title was "Ostiarius" and as a paid member of the ecclesiastical staff his duties were:

1. To be in regular attendance at church
2. To open the doors at certain hours to the faithful
3. To close the doors at all hours to the unfaithful
4. To expel all heretics and beggars as well as the dogs
5. To see that no buying or selling was carried on in the church
6. To awaken the sleepers
7. To maintain due order in time of public worship

After the Reformation in Scotland, the Ostiarius was no longer part of the ecclesiastical staff. He was chosen from the lay element of the church as a servant to the minister. He was no known as Bedellus, the latinized form of beadle – a word used in the common language of the time to designate any person whose duty it was to summon parties before a public court. The title Bedellus soon fell into disuse as the Scots found it too pretentious a name for the position and it was shortened back to beadle.

The beadle was “a man o’ wecht” both morally and physically; strong and active, sound in wind and limb, so as to be able to face and discharge the duties. During the mid-1600’s these duties included:

1. Ringing the bell to announce the hour of worship
2. Taking the books to the pulpit
3. Ushering the minister to the pulpit
4. Serving citations to absentees from church so that they report before the session for punishment
5. Awakening the sleepers, ejecting the dogs and noisy children during the service.

Upon the relaxation of the stern and rigid discipline of the Church, the beadle’s role on Sundays lessened so he became “the Minister’s Man” and assisted him in all areas during the week including farm labour, grave digging and weddings. He was paid a token wage and expected to conduct himself as “an example to the flock”.

It is interesting to note that the first woman beadle held this responsible position in the Church as early as the 1870s. In more recent years, the role of the beadle in many churches has been declining due to the reconstruction of Church life as well as for economic reasons. Most of the beadle’s responsibilities have been divided amongst the members of the church.”

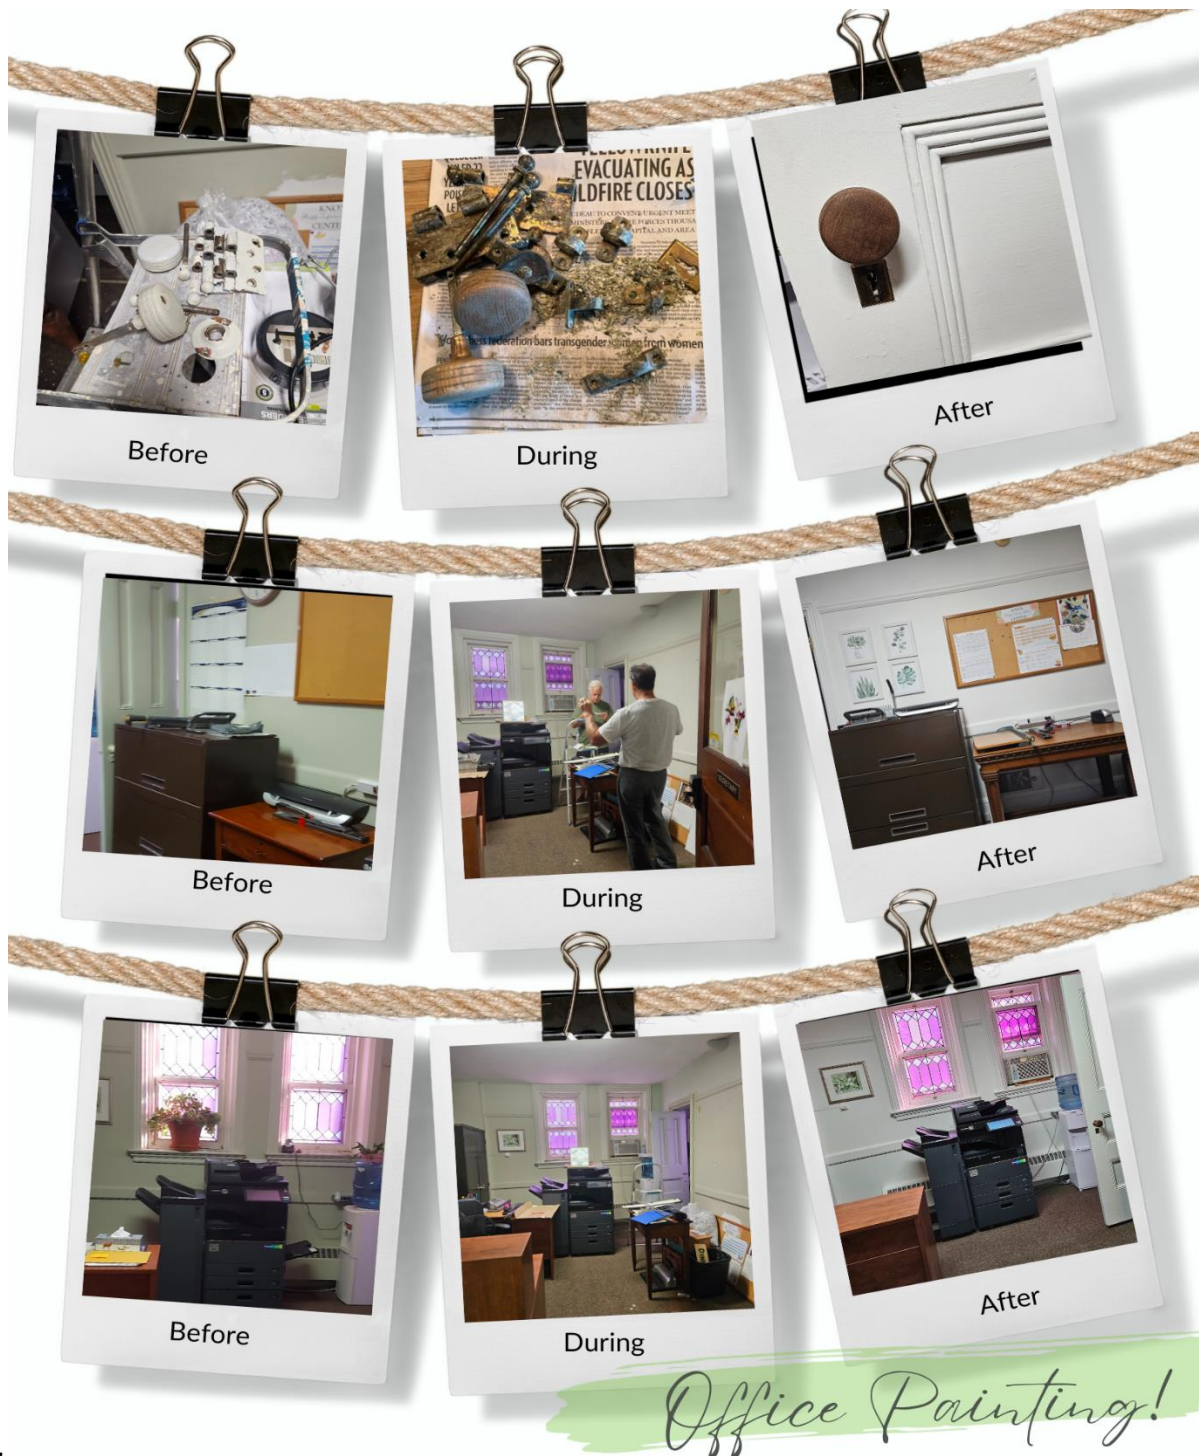

Here at Knox, we have preserved the tradition of the beadle, maintaining the presentation of “the symbol of preparation to worship”. This involves the Beadle carrying in the Bible after the prelude, with the minister following right behind. Church members stand in respect as the Bible is laid to rest on the stand on the Communion table. Following the service, the Beadle returns the Bible to its designated place.

We would like to thank Nick Hardeman for his dedication to this tradition!

Office Reno

A special thank you to everyone who worked hard helping to paint my office – Michael Conte (for the many hours of cleaning the walls and painting, and moving furniture), Mark Benner (for refinishing the hardware, removing old paint from the windows, taping off, and moving furniture), George Seggewiss (for looking after the wiring, repositioning the intercom, putting in the new light, and moving furniture), and Nick Hardeman (for helping to move furniture). It looks so bright and fresh! I am truly blessed to work here 😊 – Kim Kenny

Things To Do When You're Bored in Church

While I know that boredom in church is never an issue here at Knox, these “Things to Do When You're Bored in Church” are fun to read!

Can you find the the mistake?

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Locate all of the typing ~~misteaks~~ mistakes in the church bulletin or the Knox News!

Whenever you hear a word you are unfamiliar with during the sermon, write it down (guess the spelling) and guess at a definition. Check your guesses with an online dictionary.

Memorize the lyrics to some of the verses of hymns – you know, those ones that you mumble while trying to keep up with the tempo!

See how many words you can make out of the word “Methuselah”
1-9 words – Pretty Good!
10-20 words – Wow!
21 or more – You're a Word Master!

Compose a love letter to your spouse using The Song of Solomon as your guide!

With the freckles on your arm, make up some new constellations and name them. Advanced suggestion: See if you can find someone else with freckles on their arm and do the same. Also try it with your face using the camera on your phone!

Listen for the minister to use a word beginning with “A”, then “B”, and so on through the alphabet.

Open your Bible at random and point to a verse. Write it down. Repeat the process until you've written a personal letter. Give it to the person sitting next to you.

Look around for 10 seconds. Now, close your eyes and answer these questions:

1. How many people are sitting in the pew with you?
2. What row are you sitting in?
3. What is the minister wearing?
4. What colour outfit does the music director have on?
